Change of leadership at SF-Filter: Component sales expert Juergen Lampert is taking over as CEO

Bachenbuelach, 21 July 2025 – SF-Filter AG, headquartered in Switzerland and one of Europe's leading sales and advisory companies in the field of filtration solutions, is undergoing a change in leadership. As of 11 August 2025, Juergen Lampert will take over management of SF Filter AG from Daniel Infanger, who is leaving the company for family reasons. With Lampert, the rapidly growing group is gaining a leader with more than three decades of experience in distributing technical products and growing companies.

Together with the majority shareholder (funds advised by Equistone), his management colleagues, and the SF-Filter team (which now comprises around 300 employees), Daniel Infanger has achieved several important milestones in the company's development over the past four and a half years. These include the successful integration of six acquired companies in Germany, Italy and Belgium; the completion of the new central warehouse in Immendingen, Germany, which will enable the company to achieve an unrivalled next-day delivery rate of approximately 30,000 SKUs; and the advanced digitalisation of business processes.

Juergen Lampert (58) joins from Buerklin Elektronik, a Munich-based component distributor which he has managed and developed since 2022. Prior to that, he worked for twenty years at the London-listed RS Group, a leading global supplier of electronics, electromechanics, automation, pneumatics, measuring instruments and tools. The company is now known as RS Components. He joined the company as Head of Sales for Germany and was responsible for the APAC region, before most recently serving as Vice President for Central Europe. A seasoned sales expert, Lampert took his first career steps at renowned companies such as Hilti, Tool and Werkzeuge Hansa. Juergen Lampert is from Vorarlberg, Austria, and grew up in Goetzis, a neighbouring municipality of Weiler – the Austrian location of SF-Filter.

The company's Board of Directors: “SF-Filter is well on its way to becoming Europe’s number one in terms of product availability and expertise. We are thankful for what Daniel Infanger has achieved, and wish him all the best for his family and in his future endeavours.” The supervisory board adds, “In Juergen Lampert, we have found the ideal successor. Throughout his career, he has achieved exceptional business results, driven profitable growth and built and expanded high-performing, multidisciplinary teams. With this experience, he will continue to build on SF-Filter's success.”
